

Education and Conversation

We need to be mindful of France when we pray because of the communist, socialist government and leaders there. We need to pray that a democracy or republic will come back. The Democratic Party is getting socialistic in the USA. In ignorance people continue to vote for them, calling themselves liberals in the sense of Roosevelt, Kennedy, and Truman. But it is not true. Dukakis wants the same government in Massachusetts that is in Poland today.

Reading, Writing and Comprehension

We need to stress these things. The USA is the worst country in the free world in these areas. These three areas are essential for our children — including retention — being able to give out what they have received. We lack in this area in our training, especially in the prophetic and written word of God. Intimidation and lack of practice are two reasons why our children lack in these areas. They must read on the skill level appropriate for their age. The state will try to catch us in these areas. We must make sure that our children can write imaginative essays, writing factual descriptions. This must be produced in our children before we declare that they are trained. They shouldn't exaggerate, but write an accurate account of a story just like the Gospel is written. Our grammar and punctuation is lacking.

This will equip our children for community life — relating in the Community.

Conversation

Converse, how to converse. We must give our children helpful hints on how to do this. They must give some response when they are asked a question (at least a class-three response). Without growing in the area of conversation we will never properly spread the Gospel.

We must make every table a social event, especially including our children in every table.

Look up the words converse and conversation in a good dictionary. We must help our children with this to help them learn to converse. When we converse we must be interested in the person we are conversing with.

The Pilgrims came here and suffered so we could have a place to establish Judah. We don't have to tell our children of all the dirt about our forefathers. About Thanksgiving — tell about the true spirit of the first Thanksgiving. We must pass these things into our children. You must go beyond school textbooks to find out the real story of our forefathers.

We can't get hung up about the authorities of the nations like with the injustice done to the Indians. We must see the overall view of our Father's purpose. We must see that if individuals mistreated anyone, they will be judged for this. We must show our children that it is good that they don't have to grow up in the countries where babies are dying because of starvation. The Pilgrims did their best at trying to follow the Lamb wherever He went. They thought they were the first tribe of Israel.

Public Education

America believes that private is better than public. Does the state have any right to assume the control of the context of what we teach? We do say they have a right to know that we are educating our children, but they are violating our right by trying to govern what we teach our children. The state assumes financial control so they can judge if their funds are spent properly, so they think they must judge the content of what is taught. This is the death of the free society — the supremacy of the state. This is taught in the school system as compulsory philosophy. Once this philosophy is accepted by the masses, which it already has, it becomes almost impossible to break the stronghold of the power over the life of the citizen.

The state has control of the child right out of the womb — compulsory. At six, the child is turned over to the state — compulsory. It was the thing to do. Tax-supported education is in and no other system can replace it with an alternative and the only solution and alternative is to bring education into the market place. If one sovereign state will make a venture, others will follow. American education is on the brink of disaster. 84 percent of students in public schools are illiterate, unable to write a simple essay or descriptive writing. This is enough to make you not want to send your child to get a public education. Education must be set free from the intervention of the government and turned over to public enterprise. It is so important that it can't be turned over to the control of the government because you can see the rotten fruit.
