Households of Faith

The church is households — households of faith. The church is the household of God. Someday we will be many households. Paul said that in order to maintain the unity of the faith and the bond of peace in these households of faith, we should hold up holy hands to show there is no dissension between us — but that there is perfect unity because there is only one Spirit, one Body, one God and it is He whom we worship. If we had any dissension between us it would be hypocrisy if we held up our hands. We are to judge ourselves, not one another. We are to have self judgment like our father Abraham had self judgment. Peace. No wars.
