Prayer and Pretending

Our Father revealed His character to us by having us pray, taking part in what He is doing.

Prayer is really a plea to our Father, begging. Prayer is desiring for something to happen.

1 Tim 2. Paul commanded us to pray. Prayer indicates our individual and corporate dependence on Him. The more we pray the more we show our dependence on Him. We have a part in praying for His will to be done.

He is sitting at the right hand of the Father waiting for His enemies to be made a footstool for His feet.

We receive consolation from everyone's testimonies, from what is shared. It shows we are on the path and it is really happening. The disciples were Grade F like we were. When the Holy Spirit came upon them they even surprised themselves. We can't do anything until the Spirit comes upon us. We can't come here in the morning without the Spirit coming upon us. The Spirit comes upon us by praying. Praying is wanting something so bad you spill your heart out. He wants and we want His will to be done. We are co-workers. Luke 18. So we pray and never lose heart. You lose heart when you stop praying. When you quit praying you lose your dependence on Him. The less you pray the more you have to pretend. When you pray you don't have to pretend to love and be kind. We love one another so we express that love to one another.

Someday there will be an authoritative voice illuminating and exposing Christianity. The heavenly Father, the true God, will speak and rescue His people from the harlot system. This is part of understanding Christianity, how they are evolving into the political process. Christianity will bring in the one world government and antichrist system.

Let's lift up our hands and let Him know how we are dependent on Him. Independence constantly tries to get us to drift away. We must deliberately keep our minds on the Spirit. He wants us to have a relationship with Him. This is logical and practical for this is what every father wants, friendship and communication.

The only thing the world has seen is the devil acting like God. That is Christianity. If you don't believe it go into the midst of Christians, just like our Master went into the midst of Judaism. Hakam — Christians don't have any way to experience the life of our Master. You see them there being manipulated and with the Word being twisted. It is a deep deception. At the conference you could hear the speakers were full of principles and knowledge laced with poison. It has bits of untruth with just enough truth to make it appealing to go that way. The wave now is to support the United States and the Christian principles that it was founded upon. They want to raise up America to be the city on the hill. But this city must be us loving one another. The speakers brought powerful messages but not one word about love. They have no ability to speak of love because it is not around the cross.

There are sincere people, it's hard to not get discouraged but the more knowledge they collect the more defiled they become. It is a robber and they become too skeptical to believe the Word. They must see something, a life, a demonstration.

The speakers have nowhere to go, their messages don't lead them anywhere. There is no way to say anything better than these men it is so powerful, so slick, their message. What our Father gives us is not anywhere else.

Eph 4:1-3. Be worthy of your calling. We were called to salvation. When you are called to salvation you are completely humble, patient and gentle (strength under control). We forbear with one another, we love and appreciate one another. Then we preserve the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. We must be worthy of it. Christianity is not living up to it, they haven't even been called but are condemned by pretending. John 9:39-41.

At the gatherings when someone expresses themselves for salvation it is good for them to confess that they believe in their heart that Yahshua rose from the dead. People must call on Yahshua here, to save them and they declare Him Sovereign. He called them out of darkness into His marvelous light. This is how a person is regenerated. They publicly confess He is Sovereign and they call on His name.

Yonah — A covenant come forth because something comes forth from your heart. You commit to something real. I've committed to different things but they have disappointed me. Without children we are not a nation. If we are not a nation we are nothing. The spirit in us wants us to proceed to cause controversy in the world and show the glory of Messiah. Without this and being that people we are nothing and this is of no use. Yahshua prayed for Simon Peter, He knew He was investing His life into these men. Our Master couldn't give them the Kingdom unless these men grasped His heart.
