

Using Yahshua's Name with His Title

When we gather together we all have a song. That's what the Scripture says (1 Cor 14:26). So what's your song? Start it out [see Morning Minchah, 25 and 26 November, 1996, Sus].

Yahshua ha Mashiyach or Yahshua the Messiah — we always should use that when we talk with Christians. Don't only use His name, otherwise they might think we're talking about some kind of guru or something. But if we use His title with His name it makes it clear who we are talking about.

Somebody spoke about Yoceph and Abigail, who had labored in the tribe of Reuben for many years and are very much appreciated and affectionately remembered here. This sparked two or three other people to speak about them also.

I would like to suggest that you'd write to Yoceph and Abigail and express your appreciation to them. Just return a little bit of what they've done for you. You return to them how wonderful they are, how energizing, lively Abigail is. That has gone into you.

You have to continue to pray that a door will open in South America. It may not open unless you pray for it.
